Blood Clinic Successful

The Red Cross Blood Donors' Clinic held in Coleman last week was very well attended as it is reported that 170 donors turned out from the Pass towns over and above the rejects.

All towns were well represented at the Clinic and the Blood Transfusion service were very well pleased with the response of local residents and attribute the good turnout to good co-operation of groups and organizations in the Pass.

To make the affair the success it was the ladies of the Coleman Red Cross Sewing Group provided coffee and doughnuts, while the local chapter of the AARN and the Nursing Aid Associations looked after registrations and the day beds.

Three young men, Bob Liddell, Malcolm MacQuarrie and Don Fleming, assisted with loading the equipment, while Irene Hatalcik, Mrs. John Chappell and Miss Dorcen MacQuarrie assisted with other services.

The hall for the clinic was provided gratis by the Coleman Elks and the preparations for the clinic were made by Mrs. Joan Dunford, Reg.N., of Coleman; Anna Fabro of Blairmore, Louise Demchuk of Hillcrest and Barbara Magdall, of Bellevue.

Mr. Pattinson also operated a hardware store in Coleman and was mayor of this town for several terms before going to the coast.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and of the Protestant Faith.

Services and interment were held in Victoria, B. C.

Ratepayers To Vote May 10th on Gas Franchise Question

Coleman town council met on Tuesday evening when it was announced a public meeting would be held in the Union hall on May 8th for the purpose of hearing representatives of Banister Construction and representatives of Canadian Western Natural Gas Company discuss and explain the merits of both plans the companies have for servicing Coleman with natural gas.

Council set date of May 10th to hold a vote of ratepayers to decide whether or not the town should grant a franchise to Canadian Western Natural Gas or take over and operate a gas company as a town-owned utility.

It was also reported at the meeting that the sewage and water service was now in readiness in the new housing development area. Three homes from "Tornado Flats" near Sentinel are to be moved into the new development area. Over six lots in the new development have been sold to prospective builders.

The group arrived on Tuesday morning and participated in a program of discussions, workshop and interest groups and listened to the theme addresses by Rev. Ray Leppard of Redwater, Alberta.

Mr., Mrs. Young Feted at Party

Approximately 80 members of the staff of Coleman Collieries gathered at the Turtle Mountain Hotel on Tuesday evening, April 24th at a farewell party sponsored by the Collieries for Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Young, who have left town for Edmonton. Mr. Young, now retired, was vice-president of the Collieries.

Following a banquet supper Mr. Young was called upon by Collieries president, Mr. F. J. Harquail, who presented him with a gift for his fine service to the Company.

Mr. Harquail also presented Mrs. Young with a bouquet of flowers.

Mr. Young expressed his thanks for the gift and stated that although he regretted leaving the Pass he looked forward to an enjoyable retirement.

An evening of dancing concluded the farewell party.

Liberal Candidate Visits The Pass

"It's a wonderful country—this Canada—when a man of Scots and Irish ancestry can be invited to attend a Polish dinner party and be introduced by a good Italian friend Angelo Gentile," Jim Coutts said when thanking Jim Stowich, president of the Polish Association at the dinner and dance held at the Polish hall in Coleman on Saturday night.

Mr. Coutts, who is the Liberal candidate in Macleod riding, was campaigning in The Pass when he was invited to the entertainment where he thoroughly enjoyed the Polish dinner and afterwards tried a Polish polka at the dance.

On Tuesday he attended the May Day celebrations at Michel where many of the people of The Pass were gathered for the UMWA rally with B. C. miners.

Really now, isn't the most curious thing in the world a woman who isn't?

St. Paul's Marks Anniversary

St. Paul's United Church held anniversary services Sunday, April 29th, when the Rev. Blair MacPherson of Edmonton, conducted both the evening and morning services.

Rev. MacPherson, formerly of Coleman, is now minister in Kirk United Church in Edmonton. Kirk United Church was named after the late Rev. Joe Kirk, who was the Coleman United Church minister in the early 1940's.

After leaving the late Rev. Kirk went to Edmonton where he died while assisting with the erection of the Church that was named after him.

Blair MacPherson went to Ottawa, Ont., and then to Edmonton.

Rev. and Mrs. MacPherson now have three sons. While in Coleman Rev. MacPherson was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Stu Murdoch.

On Monday evening the anniversary of the Church was marked by a turkey banquet which was attended by a large number of the Church's congregation.

The supper was catered to by the United Church Women.

More Books Added To Library

Since the publication of our previous report, 215 volumes have been added to the library total, an increase of 12 per cent. Of these some 200 were bought at an outlay of $265.

The Juvenile department, of course, was by far the largest gainer; in fact, by 190 books. All the several age groups served by this section have been duly considered. A like number of volumes in the "Read Aloud" series has been bought. Another 20, relating the adventures of the Happy Holisters; a dozen Tom Swift science fiction stories; some 50 horse, dog and mystery tales; and 27 Zane Grey classics have been added.

Educational values have not been overlooked, and in this connection several highly attractive volumes stressing Canadian history and nature study have been included in the recent purchases.

It has been constantly in our minds that both the fostering of the reading habit and the quality of the reading matter are our business. Whatever our success in both these matters, the voracious demand of our young customers still continues unabated.

The increase in the number of adult readers is yet slight, although the fact that there is an increase at all affords some comfort.

The demand here seems to lean toward the detective story, and a plan to do some buying in this field is in the offing. In the meantime, the 40 books or so of this nature on the shelves, will soon be segregated in one section to accommodate the addicts.

Our latest additions for adults at large, however, should be pleasing. Among these are the following:

"My Life in Court," by Louis Nizer, a fascinating account of a famous trial lawyer's experiences and experiments; a book long among the 10 best-sellers and now adorning the very top of the list.

"Advice and Consent" by Allan Drury, an utterly engrossing suspense novel of Washington politics and a best-seller for many years.

"West With the Vikings" by Edson Marshall, a novel that transports the reader to the long-ago as he reads of Leif Ericson's discovery of North America.

"The Heratless Light" by Gerald Green, a thrilling kidnapping story with some surprise switches.

"The Watch That Ends the Night," Canadian author Hugh MacLennan's latest work; and "Town Without Pity" by Manfred Gregor, a touching tale of crime, trial and punishment involving modern West Germany and the American army.

Our new buys also include some classics of our time, like—

—Kenneth Roberts' "Northwest Passage" and "The Big Fisherman" by Lloyd C. Douglas. (If you haven't read them, there's a big thrill in store for you).

Happy Reading!

Pretty Spring Wedding Is Solemnized

A wedding of wide interest was held in the Elks hall at Coleman, on April 21, 1962, at 2:30 p.m., when Miss Barbara Krish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Krish, of Coleman, became the bride of Mr. Gabriel Bagu, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bagu of Blairmore.

The pianist was Mrs. Ruth Brewster of Fort Macleod, who played "Oh, Walk With God".

The ceremony was performed by Mr. Frank Brewster.

The bride entered the hall on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was floor-length, white nylon over tulle trimmed with lace down the front.

Her chapel-length veil of illusion net was held in place by a tiara of seed and tear pearls. Her jewelry was a tear pearl necklace and earrings, a gift from the groom.

She carried a bouquet of yellow roses from which flowed yellow streamers of rosebuds.

Mrs. Alberta Dase attended her sister as matron of honor, while her bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Bagu, sister of the groom, and Miss Ann Godfrey.

The attendants were dressed in identical colors of mauve nylon over tulle. Their headpieces were aurora borealis tiaras and they carried white roses with streamers.

Best man was John Bagu, brother of the groom, and groomsmen were Donald Krish and Kenneth Dase. Ushers were Len Luchansky and James Hogg of Lethbridge.

A reception was held at 5:00 o'clock for a hundred guests where Dr. J. Chappell was master of ceremonies.

The room was decorated with white and pink bells and streamers and the head table was centred with a four-tiered wedding cake, complemented by baskets of roses and mauve mums and carnations.

The bride's mother wore a blue nylon lace dress with white accessories and a blue rose corsage. The groom's mother wore a blue crepe dress and her corsage was white roses.

The many guests enjoyed themselves later in the evening where lunch and dancing followed.

After a short honeymoon, the young couple will make their home in Coleman.

The bride and groom were happily surprised when a telegram of congratulations came from the bride's brother LAC Norman Krish and his wife Glory, with the RCAF in France.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Connie Hoffman and family, Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lenivinski of Red Deer, Messrs. Jim and Bob Hogg of Lethbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lysak and family of Lethbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Don Krish and family of Hope, B. C., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krish and family of Calgary, Mr. John Brewster of Fort Macleod, Mr. and Mrs. L. Luchansky of Lethbridge, Mrs. Rose Johnson and Wayne of Cranbrook, B.C., Miss Carol Johnson and Brian of Calgary, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rejman of Creston, B. C.

Jim Coutts, Macleod Liberal Candidate, greets Mike Pearson at Lethbridge Airport as the Liberal leader opened the national campaign in Alberta on Wednesday. Mr. Pearson made a 10 minute speech and then went hand shaking in the crowd, accompanied by the Macleod candidate who is the youngest candidate in Canada.

The float again will be made available without cost by the government of Alberta's Industrial Development to Fairs and Sports Day parades held by various communities throughout Alberta. This is the fourth year such a float has been made available and demands for its participation in the various provincial events has risen each year. Last year the float travelled 7200 miles, visiting 32 different communities between May and September. Theme of the float, as portrayed above, will encourage Albertans to enjoy their own holiday resort opportunities rather than going further afield. Berrie the Beaver, the symbol of the Alberta Forest Protection Branch, is part of the design with the implied suggestion to holidaymakers to protect from fire their forest areas. Applications for the float's appearance may be made in writing to the Director of Publicity, Department of Industry and Development, Highways Building, Edmonton. The float will be programmed on its tour on the basis of sequence of applications.

OF MANY THINGS (By Ambrose Hills)

Women Disappointed

The National Council of Women had asked the government for a better deal for Canadian widows and widowers. No doubt they expected that the recent budget, presented just before the election date was set, would give some relief. No mention of the matter was made, and there is naturally a great deal of disappointment.

Women are used to getting the brush-off from governments, because women do not seem to unite in efforts to get justice. They are not aggressive politically.

Certainly they have a good case. For example, if a breadwinner dies and leaves his widow a pension or annuity, the revenue department capitalizes it. To simplify that, they guess how long she will live and how much she will receive—and the tax is based on that guess. If she is unfortunate to die in six years instead of 16 years, she has paid tax on what she will never get!

Surely this is a raw injustice in a nation where we are supposed to believe in the Christian principle that a man and his wife are one person. It is a real injustice to widows and widowers alike, who work together to arrange that on the death of one the other will not suffer too severe a drop in income.

What should the women do?

I can tell them what men would do. With an election coming up, they would attend all campaign meetings and they would ask each and every candidate to declare himself on the issue.

A candidate wanting support would be called on to make a firm promise to work for reform in the field of estate taxes. Then, if elected, the candidate would be reminded continuously of his promise and would be expected to speak up in parliament on the subject.

Women underestimate their own power. Who runs most of the campaigns, gets out the vote, does the telephoning, mails the literature, convenes the teas and even drives cars in the parades? The women!

Political candidates need this help and need it badly. While they are in need, they should be asked to commit themselves to doing something worthwhile when elected. One worthy act would be to give widows and widowers something closer to justice in the taxation of hard-earned pensions.

OF MANY THINGS (By Ambrose Hills)

Election Opportunities

A good time to let politicians know what you want and don't want is now, when they are soliciting your votes. This is the time to put them right on the spot and get from them some clear statements of how they stand on various issues.

For my part, candidates who solicit my support will have to assure me that they will be more prudent with the dollars they collect. I have no desire to be bribed with my own money; I will vote for the candidate who promises to stop spending money as if it were going out of style.

You may have different ideas. I know there are some voters who think that when taxes are raised they are not hurt personally. They even approve of the notion that corporations should be soaked. It is a naive position to hold, because if the corporations are soaked they must raise their prices and who do you suppose pays those increased prices? However, those who are naive enough to want the corporations soaked must get in their best digs during the election campaign.

Another thing I am going to ask of the candidates in my constituency is a statement one way or another on widows' pensions. I go along with the National Council of Women in their argument that the present tax on widows' pensions is grossly unfair and ought to be dropped or changed. Indeed I think Canada's entire tax structure should be changed to lower the rates, so that we can compete in price with other countries, and I am going to ask candidates how they feel about it and what they will do about it if elected.

Elections can be boring, but they are, in my opinion, an education. You can have a lot of fun and learn a lot by taking part, attending the meetings, asking questions. This I propose to do. I think the days when politics were discussed around the pot-bellied stove or over the cracker barrel in the country stores were good days, and that the custom ought to be revived. Next time you meet a neighbor, involve him in a political argument. You might not convince him, but you are almost certain to come out of the discussion somewhat wiser, and he is likely to learn a little from you. That's what makes democracy click.

65 m.p.h. Speed Limit Not Yet In Effect

Hon. Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, has announced that the 65 miles per hour speed limit is not yet in effect on any two-lane highway in the province.

He points out that the Vehicle and Highway Traffic Act was amended permitting the Executive Council to raise the speed limit on certain two-lane highways providing same are so posted, but this amendment does not come into effect until July 1, 1962. At that time there must be an Order-in-Council raising the speed limit on each respective highway, and the new speed limit must be posted by signs on the highway before the new limit becomes effective.

The Minister points out that he has had a number of people contact him who had taken from stories arising out of the amendments, that the new speed limit was already in effect on all modern two-lane highways. The stories apparently did not point out that the amendment was not effective until July 1, 1962, and only then after an Order-in-Council authorized the new speed limit.

Car Check Vital To Safe Driving

Emerging from a rough winter of driving, an automobile urgently requires a thorough check, the Canadian Highway Safety Council warns. Motorists are being cautioned this month to take their vehicles to competent service centres to assure their safety in the coming open-road season and to prevent accidents due to mechanical failure.

"Manufacturers build much safety into modern automobiles," said W. Arch Bryce, CHSC executive director, "but an automobile is still a machine and must be properly maintained and regularly serviced."

Mr. Bryce strongly advised an immediate check-up of lights, glass, steering, mirrors, brakes, exhaust, horn, wipers and tires. "Only in this way," he said, "can a driver be certain his vehicle is in safe condition for the highway."

The Council is also urging operators of trucks to take every possible precaution for safe vehicles. "Not only does an unsafe vehicle threaten the driver's life, it also threatens the lives of pedestrians and other drivers," the Council warned.

IN ORDER TO PUBLISH reports of meetings of various organizations, it would help if a press correspondent was appointed by each one to send in the news. It is impossible for a reporter to attend all the meetings, therefore co-operation would be appreciated, and at the same time publicity would be assured for the meetings.

Architect R. T. Affleck, of Montreal, has emphasized open planning in the living area of this house. The living room overlooks the back garden and extends into an all-purpose area which can be closed off to become a study, a guest room, on occasion, or a third bedroom.

Closet space is plentiful throughout the house and there is a well-lighted clear area in the basement which could be made into a playroom. Cross ventilation has been provided in the bedrooms, which are well-separated from living area in the house.

The total floor area is 994 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 42 feet by 23 feet, eight inches. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 253, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.
